

SENATE ASKED TO APPROVE FORMOSA PLAN

Full U. S. Sabrejet Wing Arrives in Formosa

Make Intentions Clear, Two Committees Ask

Final Vote May Come Friday; Predict Approval

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Senate committees today formally asked an uneasy Senate to approve the Formosa fight-if necessary resolution although, they said, it prescribes a course of action "not without danger."

"If we make our intentions clear now, we may avert more serious consequences at a later time," the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees said in a report to the Senate.

The resolution which gives President Eisenhower broad authority to defend Formosa, including U. S. attacks on the Red China mainland if necessary to prevent an invasion, is being debated by the Senate. It has cleared the house.

A final vote in the Senate may come Friday, and many leaders predicted overwhelming approval.

Knowland Quotes President
Arguments have been raised that the resolution will lead to preventive war. Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland (Calif.) reported today that President Eisenhower feels very strongly that it will not result in such action.

The two Senate committees said the resolution is necessary to protect the "vital interests" of the United States in the Far East.

The committees said the resolution is "designed to stabilize" the Formosa area by "spelling out the action the United States will take to protect Formosa and the Pescadores against armed attack."

The controversial provision in the resolution extends the authority of the President to include "the securing and protection of such related positions and territories of that (Formosa) area now in friendly hands and the taking of such other measures" as the President judges appropriate to assure the defense of Formosa and the Pescadores.

Warn Against "Handicap"
In their nine-page report, the committees dealt briefly with the argument that the geographic scope of the resolution should be defined more precisely and limited to Formosa and the Pescadores.

"Such action might handicap our country by depriving it of flexibility that may be needed to meet unforeseen situations that might arise in the future," the report said.

"The joint committee agrees that, in this particular instance at least, it would seem unwise to define too precisely the geographic scope of the resolution," the report said.

Knowland disclosed Mr. Eisenhower's sentiments on the prevention of arguments after a call at the White House at which he brought the President up-to-date on the Senate situation.

Won't Be Sitting Ducks
Knowland said there would be no shooting on the part of American forces protecting Formosa unless they were attacked.

In event of attack, he said, no citizen expects "our ships to be shot at like sitting ducks and not return the fire."

Some senators were concerned over reports that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and military spokesmen feel the resolution clearly permits possible action on the Chinese mainland and nearby Nationalist-held islands if necessary to defend Formosa.

Such reports leaked from closed-door meetings of the Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees after testimony by the military chiefs and Dulles.

Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La.), criticizing administration attempts to ram the resolution thru too quickly, told newsmen "There would be considerable concern to the public if it knew what I hear (was said) in those secret hearings." Long is not on either committee and did not attend the hearings.

Will Reinforce 7th Fleet in Tachen Action

Air Force Moves Jet Bombers to Forward Bases

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—A full wing of 75 U. S. Sabre jet fighters arrived here today and more naval units were reported steaming northward to reinforce the powerful 7th Fleet for the defense of this Chinese Nationalist stronghold.

The U. S. ships and planes also would be available to help possible evacuation of Nationalist forces from the invasion-threatened Tachen islands, 200 miles north of Formosa.

The big aircraft carrier Midway, which had been scheduled to visit Singapore on a courtesy call in February, was ordered today to bypass that British port and sail directly to the troubled Formosan Straits.

Four U. S. destroyers—the Brownstone, Roberts, Roan and Royal—were ordered to cut short their present courtesy visit to Singapore. It was believed here they also are en route to rejoin the powerful naval force standing guard over Formosa.

Report Invasion Fleet
Nationalist sources said the Chinese Communists had an invasion fleet of 1,000 junks carrying 120,000 men within 20 miles of the island outposts 200 miles north of Formosa.

At the same time, Peiping Radio proclaimed anew its defiance of the United States.

The U. S. Air Force announced in Tokyo it also was moving up "offensive units"—jet bombers—to forward bases to cope with any eventuality as the 18th Fighter-Bomber Wing of 75 MIG-killing Sabres flew to Formosan airfields from Okinawa and the Philippines.

The F8Es ran up a 13-1 victory over the MIGs in Korea.

Warning to Reds
Military observers here saw the movement of American air strength as a firm warning to Red China that the United States was dead set on carrying out a successful evacuation of Tachen when the final orders come from Washington.

These observers said the United States was bringing such powerful military forces to bear in the Formosa area that Red China might be "persuaded" to stand aside for a peaceful evacuation of the 30,000 Nationalists in the Tachens.

Whether the Reds would do that was a major question.

Communist broadcasts said they would not be "intimidated" and Nationalist sources said the Reds had massed 120,000 men in the Tachen area, 150 miles to the south, and 50,000 at Matsu, midway between.

Hit Reds Near Tachen
Waves of Nationalist bombers concentrated today on the group threatening the Tachens and again bombed Red military positions on Yikiangshan Island, eight miles north of Tachen, in an effort to silence the long-range Communist artillery there.

LT. Gen. Roger Ramey, commander of the U. S. 5th Air Force in Japan, arrived here to supervise the deployment of America's first armed forces to Formosa, a move described by top American military leaders as one "to provide U. S. air force power to any place needed."

The Nationalist Cabinet met today and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek was reported to have given his personal approval to evacuation of the Tachens, but to have made it clear he was "yielding" to American desires.

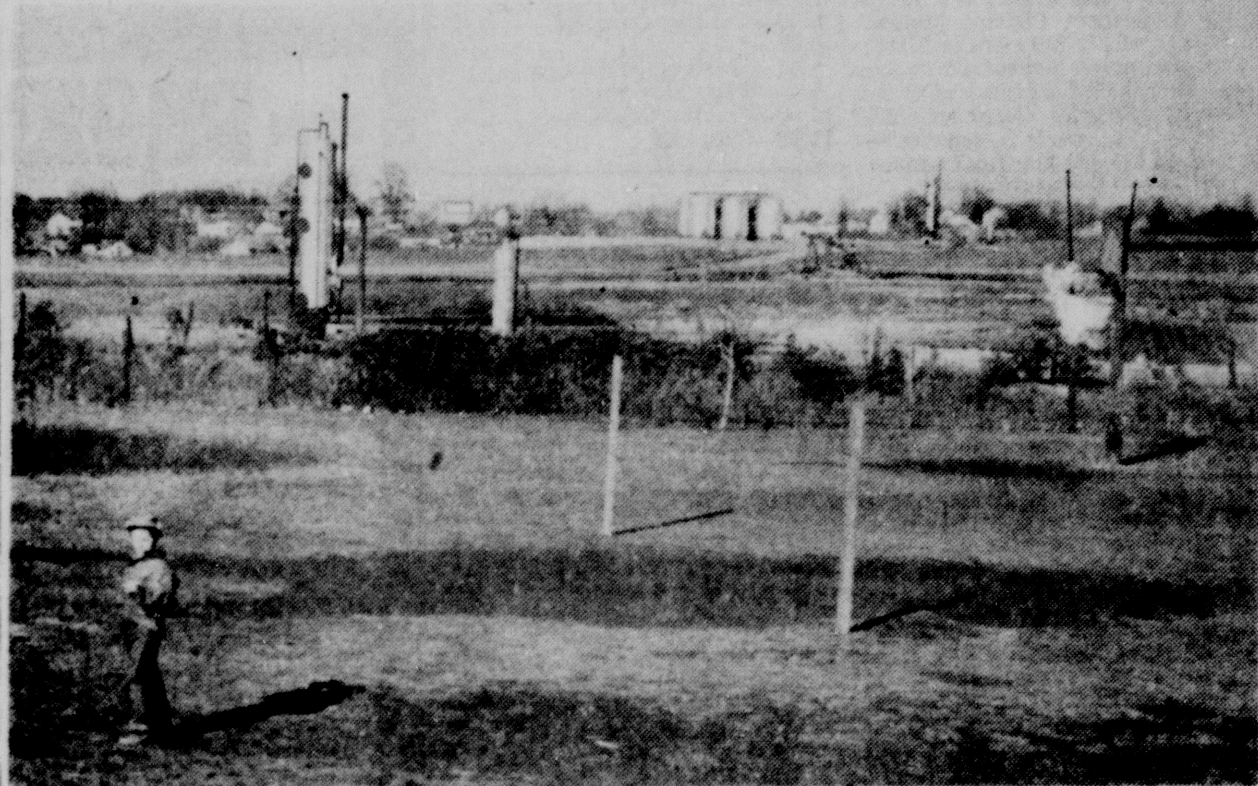

Peiping Radio, the voice of Red China, warned that the Red regime "will never be intimidated" but "will carry on their efforts to liberate Formosa and wipe out the Chiang Kai-Shek group of betrayers until they win a final victory."

Peiping particularly attacked the 7th Fleet's aerial activities and said "many carrier-based aircraft have been patrolling over the sea east of Tachen Island for the past few days."

It called the action "provocative."

OIL IS MAIN TALK AT ELDORADO: City Lives Up to Name as Everyone Hopes for Riches or Added Income

(First of a series of four articles on oil in Eldorado township.)

By TIMOTHEUS
"Eldorado," says the dictionary, "is any place of fabulous richness." In the early days those thoughts of richness were of gold. But the 20th Century has brought about a change of thought. Eldorado means riches in oil.

Back in 1914, which is more than 40 years ago, searchers for oil went to Eldorado, Kansas, and found what they were looking for. Then, six years later, oil in abundance was found at Eldorado, Arkansas.

And now, a real hot oil spot is Eldorado, in Saline county, Illinois.

Just drop over to Eldorado and engage in conversation. Oil is the subject. Those with prospects talk about themselves. Those without prospects talk about the other fellow. But with town lot drilling getting under way, almost everybody dreams of added income—if not riches.

Those with considerable holdings dream of becoming rich. And widows and others hope for an extra $25 or $30 a month—and would settle for $15.

It's quite a sight when you drive over to Eldorado. Go in through Beulah Heights campground road. Drive slow and look. You'll see flares here and there, pumps and storage tanks in backyards. And, just this side of the campground, you'll see where Dame Fortune didn't smile at all—just an upheaval of muddy dirt where a once-hopeful rig drilled down to a formation that wouldn't pay. Not all holes are wells.

But there are more wells than dry holes and hope of bigger and better things to come in oil is at high level.

"Oil men say they've just scratched the surface over here," is a statement you hear from a lot of people up town. They may be right.

But there are others who are more restrained. They are hoping for the best but add: "Nobody knows what we have here and won't know except by drilling to find out."

Some show a bit of pessimism, looking toward some fields not too far away which dwindled rapidly after initial boom. And others say the pay sands are so thick that the present wells should go on for years and years.

Like a boom on anything else, you can hear lots of stories.

Right now, however, the independent operators are the big boys in the Eldorado picture. The majors are in a bit but not as much as some of the residents would like to see. They figure that if the majors are in, the field is a fixture.

One encouraging thing about the Eldorado picture is that there are nine pay formations. That means there are nine formations from which oil has been brought.

The pay formations are the Palestine, Bonisteel, Tar Springs, Waltersburg, Paint Creek, Aux Vases sand, Aux Vases limestone and the McClosky. They are listed in the order a driller finds them on his way down through the earth. Biggest producer has been the Waltersburg. The best wells have come from this sand.

SIU Asks State To Double Its Operating Funds

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—The Illinois Budgetary Commission today studied Southern Illinois university's request to double its operating budget in the next two years.

President Delyte W. Morris of SIU presented a 1955-57 budget request of $16,500,000 to the commission Wednesday. This compared with $8,382,400 appropriated for 1953-55.

Morris also outlined a building program totaling $35,904,300 for the next two years. The institution sought about the same in 1953 but got a total of $4,700,000, including reappropriations.

Morris told the commission the increases are needed to "restore lost ground" because previous appropriations weren't sufficient, and to meet a heavy increase in enrollment.

"The unexpectedly rapid increase in enrollment has placed us in a serious predicament," Morris said. He added "the staffs and budgets for several years past have been inadequate to handle the student body."

Morris said SIU enrollment has increased 52 per cent since 1953, to a total of 4,619. He estimated there will be 5,500 students on the Carbondale campus in 1955 and 6,500 in 1956.

Morris said the operating money sought would be used partly to resume courses that have been eliminated, cut the size of classes, and increase salaries of the faculty.

He listed building projects in the capital budget according to priority, with $2,600,000 for an agricultural building group and $3,500,000 for dormitories at the top of the list.

The cold wave's advance front dumped from three to nine inches of snow on Western Pennsylvania. The temperature was 4 above zero early today at Pittsburgh, Pa., and was expected to go lower.

Youth Fined for Reckless Driving
Donald Dowdy, Dorrisville youth, was fined a total of $26.40 by Police Magistrate Charles McKenzie on a charge of reckless driving after the car he was driving went through three yards on West Barnett street, doing damage and wrecking the auto.

Dowdy was given a ticket by Patrolman Pat Atkinson, who said he was after a car in which Dowdy was going at a high rate of speed. Atkinson said that Dowdy lost control of the car on West Barnett, going through a hedge fence in the yard of Fred Reynolds, moving into the C. T. Reynolds yard where the car knocked over a barber pole and on into the yard of Harry McDowell, where the auto broke off a tree and stopped.

Dowdy was not hurt. The incident happened about 6:15 p. m. yesterday.

Death Takes Samuel H. Reed
Samuel H. Reed, 71, former employee of Rogers Auto Supply, died today at 8:15 a. m. at his home, 1310 South Granger. He suffered coronary thrombosis yesterday.

He leaves his wife, Minnie; three sons, Lowell and Leo of Harrisburg, and Wendall of Anna, Ill.; two brothers, Willis of Harrisburg, Ezra of Oak Park, and one sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Newton of Harvey.

The body is now at the Gibbons funeral home and funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Financier Serge Rubinstein, Draft Dodger, is Slain

Found Beaten to Death in Fifth Avenue Town House

NEW YORK (AP)—Serge Rubinstein, 46-year-old convicted draft dodger and international financial manipulator, was found bound, gagged and beaten to death today in his fancy Fifth Avenue town house.

The body of the short, swarthy Russian-born multi-millionaire, who last August had been the victim of a street attack and an extortion attempt, was found by his butler in his third floor bedroom. He was clad in black pajamas.

Sheets had been torn from the bed and ripped. The mattress was tipped to the floor and bureau drawers pulled out and disarranged.

Rubinstein, lying on his back on the floor, was bound hand and foot with venetian blind cord. A strip of adhesive tape was across his mouth.

His mother, who has made her home with him since his divorce several years ago, as well as servants, were believed to have been in the house.

Motive Not Established
Police refused to say whether they believed robbery or murder had been the original purpose of his assailants.

Rubinstein, who built a five-million-dollar personal fortune in international speculation before his 35th birthday, had spent most of the last 10 years fighting court actions for deportation, alleged financial frauds and draft dodging.

He was acquitted of a three-million-dollar stock fraud charge in 1951.

He served two years in the Federal House of Correction.

Worst Cold Wave of Season Hits Midwest

By United Press
The worst cold wave of the season dropped temperatures as low as 32 degrees below zero in the Midwest today and stretched its icy grip towards the Atlantic Coast.

The mass of Arctic air pushed the temperature below zero as far south as northern Missouri and central Illinois. The mercury tumbled five to 29 degrees from the Dakotas eastward to Indiana and Ohio.

It was the coldest weather of the season for practically all of the Midwest and cold wave warnings were issued for West Virginia, Ohio and Kentucky.

The cold wave's advance front dumped from three to nine inches of snow on Western Pennsylvania. The temperature was 4 above zero early today at Pittsburgh, Pa., and was expected to go lower.

Cold Moving East
The U. S. Weather Bureau said the bitter cold would move across the Midwest and Great Lakes today and then turn eastward to hit the northern Appalachians and New England tonight.

The cold wave was also expected to strike as far south as Virginia, where a low of 10 above in the west and north was predicted for tonight.

The east was not expected to match the polar temperatures early today in the Midwest—32 below at Bemidji, Minn., and Grantsburg, Wis.; 20 below at Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minn.; 28 below at International Falls, Minn.; 23 below at St. Cloud, Minn.; 26 below at Duluth, Minn., and 13 below at Mason City, Iowa.

The mercury hit 9 below zero in Chicago early today to tie the all-time record for the date and make it the coldest day in the Windy City since the 11 below reading of Feb. 8, 1951.

It was 34 degrees warmer in Anchorage, Alaska, where the temperature was a rather pleasant 25 above.

Eisenhower to Remain Near Capital Next Few Months Because of Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has decided to stick close to Washington for the next few months because of the international crisis and important business pending in Congress.

For the most part, the chief executive will stay within about two hours' air time from the nation's capital for "the next two or three months." If he does go beyond that range, he will not remain away from Washington more than one night.

The self-imposed travel limitation was announced Wednesday by Press Secretary James C. Hagerty. He said the decision reflected "no emergency" and he did not want to encourage what he described as "scare headlines."

But Hagerty said he would be "foolish" to say that the current Far Eastern crisis did not enter into the President's decision. The press secretary emphasized the President's desire to remain close at hand while his 1955 administration program is in its formative stages in Congress.

The air travel limit of about two hours would not preclude a spring trip to Augusta, Ga. The President's new Super-Constellation, the Columbine III, can make the Augusta-Washington flight in less than two hours and unless the Formosa situation deteriorates materially, the chief executive and his wife are expected to spend a long week-end in Georgia in April.

The self-imposed curb, however, abruptly ended consideration of tentative plans for another Eisenhower visit to Palm Springs, Calif., where he spent six days last February. The President wanted to return to Southern California, but he notified his friends there about 10 days ago that he could not make it this winter.

The stay-near-home policy also will not interfere with weekend motor trips to Camp David and the Eisenhower farm in Gettysburg, Pa. The driving time to the farm is a little over two hours. It's less than two hours to Camp David.

World Must Abolish War or Face Destruction: M'Arthur
'Old Soldier' Receives Standing Ovation On 75th Birthday Address in California

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur called on world leaders Wednesday night to help abolish war or face the possibility that the earth may someday be destroyed in a giant nuclear blast.

The next great advance in the evolution of civilization cannot take place until war is abolished," MacArthur said in a speech commemorating his 75th birthday. He received a standing ovation from a crowd of 1,000 before he spoke.

"The leaders are the laggards," MacArthur said. "The disease of power seems to confuse and befuddle them."

He said the ordinary people of the world, whether slave or free, agree that war should be abolished. "And this perhaps is the only thing in the world they do agree upon," he said.

Describes Great 'Illusions'
He said present tensions with their threat of national annihilation are kept alive by two great illusions. "The one a complete belief on the part of the Soviet world that the capitalist countries are preparing to attack them . . . and the other a complete belief on the part of the capitalist countries that the Soviet are preparing to attack us."

Both are wrong, he said. For either side war with the other would mean nothing but disaster. "But the constant acceleration of preparation may well, without specific intent, ultimately produce a spontaneous combustion."

MacArthur also charged that the Formosa crisis demonstrates "the inherent weakness" of collective security and warned that the ultimate fate of the Far East and the rest of the world will not be settled by war.

He said the United States must "break out of the straight jacket of the past" and proclaim its readiness to abolish war along with the other world powers.

Warns Of Nuclear Suicide
MacArthur warned that unless the masses force the abolition of war, a preparedness race may throw the world into a suicidal nuclear war by "spontaneous combustion."

Mrs. Roscoe Cook, 45, Dies; Rites Saturday 2 p. m.
Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. at the First Baptist church for Mrs. Bessie Cook, 45, wife of Roscoe Cook, who died today at 3:30 a. m. at her home, 118 East Sloan. She had been in poor health for around five years.

Mrs. Cook was born Jan. 4, 1910, in Johnson county to W. W. and Oliver Cummings, and on May 4, 1935, she married Roscoe Cook, who is a member of the Operating Engineers. They have made their home in Harrisburg since 1939. She belonged to the V. F. W. and American Legion Auxiliaries.

She leaves her husband, Roscoe; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Cummings of Buncombe; one sister, Mrs. Blanche Johnson of Elgin, and three brothers, Lawrence Cummings of Buncombe, Everett of Davisburg, Mich., and Orval of Drayton Plains, Mich.

Rev. Roy Reynolds will officiate, assisted by Rev. Joe Morman, and burial will be in the Lindale Memorial Gardens.

The body is being returned by the Gaskins funeral home to the residence late this afternoon, and will be buried at 2 p. m. Saturday.

For Our Safety And Welfare

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT

In the two years since President Eisenhower took office, the notion has got about, with the help of the Democrats, that his Administration is interested in a balanced budget for its own sake. But his newest annual budget proposals would seem to knock that idea cold.

They project a federal deficit for the year starting next July of somewhere around $2.5 billion. This isn't whopping, but it isn't insignificant, either.

As forecast weeks ago, Mr. Eisenhower and his top advisers concluded that the deficit cut this figure substantially lower and still serve the interests of the nation. If there was a "balance the budget at all costs" group within the President's official family, it has at least temporarily lost out.

Up to this point, the Eisenhower regime has made considerable progress in slashing federal expenditures. Some critics would say this was done at the price of lost muscle, as well as fat, in the vital defense establishment. But this is highly debatable ground.

Whatever the wisdom of reductions in defense and other spending in the past two years, it is plain that the President feels the point has been reached where further trimming must be indulged in sparingly.

There is compelling need for more atomic air striking power, for a better continental defense system, for foreign aid not great in total but shrewdly dispensed for maximum effect in the less developed countries.

At the same time, domestic requirements have piled up, and the President's recommendations for the home front indicate unmistakably his conviction that the federal government has a large area of responsibility in such matters as schools, health programs, highways, and other welfare plans.

Perhaps not many would have imagined a few years back that a Republican administration would propose sizable outlays for these things. But the fact is that Mr. Eisenhower's own off-expressed philosophy of government — "conservative in economics, liberal in matters of human welfare" — opens the way for the kind of programs stressed in the new budget. And, actually, there is today substantial bipartisan acceptance of these objectives, though nothing like, of course, the unanimity which marks action toward our defense goals.

Democrats will say, naturally, that in offering this sort of budget Mr. Eisenhower is merely going past Democratic regimes. But he has been impelled along this path by the realities of American life in 1955, and certainly the Democrats have no monopoly on these. The new budget speaks as eloquently as figures can of the government's responsibilities for our safety and well-being.

Yet it shows, too, that the President wants government to remain the servant rather than become the master of the people, that he wants it to be as conservative as possible with money, toward the day when a balance of income and outgo — so well brought into sight these past two years — can be finally realized.

Could Be Getting in Over His Head

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND
By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Ike's Formosan Proposals Won't Lead To War; British Plan To Pressure Red China; Republican Isolationists Are Against Intervention In China.

WASHINGTON. — Don't start buying a couple of steers and salting them away in the deep freeze as a result of the current rash of messages to Congress, security council meetings and secret huddles at the White House. The chances are about 10 to 1 there will be no general shooting war. Here are some of the reasons why:

1. The last thing Eisenhower wants, as a military man is to go down in history as having plunged the United States into war. He is straining at the leash away from too much risk in the Far East, and some of his military advisers complain bitterly against it.

2. The Republican party — or at least one-half of it — can't afford the stigma of getting the United States into war. They hurred accusations at the Democrats as the "war party" at the last election. If the Republicans fell for the same thing they accused the Democrats of doing, their political goose would be cooked for years.

3. British Foreign Minister Anthony Eden has some tricks up his sleeve, namely pressure on the Chinese Reds for more reasonable behavior; also, an olive branch plus a face-saving solution which will let the U. S. A. off the hook — though it won't please Chiang Kai-Shek. This solution is: Turn Formosa over to the United Nations, though keeping Chiang in control.

Stacked up against these favorable factors for peace, there is one unpredictable, worrisome factor — namely the brassness, boldness of the Chinese Communists.

THE BIG RISK

An older, more experienced, less cocky nation would never precipitate war at this time. The Chinese Reds, however, are flush with the virtual victory they scored in Korea, plus an even greater victory in Indo-China. They realize they can fight. They were surprised and pleased at their own ability to fight in Korea. Swollen with success, they could rush into war.

If so, military strategists at the Pentagon are betting that Russia will not come in.

This is the big risk Eisenhower takes. He is taking it especially in the defense of the small islands of Quemoy and Matsu which are within swimming distance of the Chinese mainland and which can be taken by Red China — unless the United States gives Chiang all-out support.

Note — Pentagon advisers tell the White House that because the Chinese Reds are so bold and brash, they had better be stopped now before they get stronger; and can't go on bowing to them forever.

BACKSTAGE BATTLES

Here are highlights of the backstage huddles and secret arguments taking place during the past week:

Republican Split—Paradoxically the group within the Republican party which demands a showdown with China is the same isolationist group which backed the League of Nations, opposed the Marshall Plan, and has been against entangling alliances and foreign involvements. Many of them have become so steamed up over China, however, that they forget their previous isolationism. . . . What got them steamed up was a combination of General MacArthur's persuasion, campaign money contributed by the China lobby, plus belief in their own election slogans. There was so much attack on the Acheson-Truman policy in China that one wing of the GOP is now convinced that it has to do something different. . . . Speaker Joe Martin, who came back from breakfast with Ike to announce that the President didn't need any extra authority from Congress, is a great devotee of General MacArthur's. . . . Joe put his foot in it — however. For Republicans had been blaming Truman for acting without authority in Korea. Now Joe admits that the President has authority to act in such emergencies. . . . History Repeats — Unquestionably Secretary Dulles is following the old Acheson policy of hands-off the Chinese mainland — and for the same reason: Fear of getting bogged down on a continent where life is cheaper than peanuts. Ike has said repeatedly, privately, that he shares the same fear. . . . History has repeated in more ways than one. When Dulles made his press-conference statement that the Tachen Islands were not a military necessity to the defense of Formosa, he automatically invited the Red Chinese attack. For the Reds figured the United States would not intervene at the Tachens. . . . When Acheson made a similar speech about Korea not being militarily essential to the United States, he automatically invited a Communist attack on Korea. . . . After Dulles' press-conference statement, Chiang sent a bitter cable accusing Dulles of cutting the ground out from under him.

Dulles vs. Radford — During the Truman administration a bitter battle continued for months between Dean Acheson and General MacArthur over intervention on the Chinese mainland. Now the battle is between the man who succeeded Acheson and the chief military man in the Eisenhower administration — Adm. Arthur Radford. Radford was relegated

State GOP Women's Advisory Board To Meet Friday

The Advisory Board of the Federation of Illinois Women's Republican clubs will hold a business meeting at 10 a. m. on Friday, Jan. 28, in the Abraham Lincoln hotel, Springfield, followed by a luncheon in the Ball Room at 12:30, at which the speaker will be Miss Louise Gore, program chairman of the National Federation of Republican Women.

The Advisory Board is composed of the officers of the Federation; four directors, namely, the National committeewoman, Director of Women's Activities for the State Central committee, Director of Women's Activities for Cook county, and the immediate past president of the Federation; plus the Congressional District directors and the presidents of the 125 clubs in the Federation.

In addition, invitations have been extended to state central committeewomen, county chairwomen, and sustaining members. Club presidents are also urged to bring members of their clubs as guests.

On the agenda for the business session will be installation of 1955-56 officers, who are: President, Mrs. Irl Marshall, of Deerfield; first vice-president Mrs. Conrad Becker, of Red Bud; second vice-president, Mrs. Howard Brooking, of Pekin; third vice-president, Mrs. A. R. Ramsey, of East St. Louis; recording secretary, Mrs. C. D. Henry, of Aroma Park; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Carlyle Russell, of LaGrange; and treasurer, Miss Dorothy Karl, of Havana. The four directors are Mrs. Wesley M. Dixon, of Lake Forest, National committeewoman; Mrs. J. Ralph Peake, of Winchester, State director of Women's activities; Mrs. Henry Dormitzer, of Chicago, Cook county director of Women's Activities; and Mrs. Clifford R. Laws, of Springfield, immediate past president of the Federation.

"Stonewall" Jackson, the Confederate general was accidentally killed by his own men in the battle of Chancellorsville, in 1863.

to the Navy's "Siberia" (the mid-Pacific) by Truman after he got into civil war with the Air Force. But Ike brought him back from "Siberia" after Radford met him at a refueling stop in Iwo Jima in December, 1952, and Radford sweet-talked him about how Chiang Kai-Shek could retake China if only unleashed. . . . Chiang was unleashed; also given U. S. ships and support. But he's now right back where he was under Acheson with the U. S. Navy protecting him. . . . Radford and Dulles got so vehement at one White House meeting over the release of American fliers, that Eisenhower intervened. . . . the admiral claimed the way to get the fliers released was to blockade the China coast. The secretary of state argued that Russia had just released three American citizens, which was her way of setting an example to China. Therefore the United States must be patient. . . . Radford vigorously disagreed. . . . Whereupon Ike got peeved, gave Radford a lecture on the importance of considering political factors in handling foreign affairs.

Marine Hiker Is Above Quota In Walk for Polio

WEST FRANKFORT, Ill. (AP) — A Marine hiker set off for Benton and Christopher today in near-zero weather cheered by donations that far surpassed his goal of a penny a step.

S. Sgt. Dick Mitchell, Marine recruiter at Carbondale, covered 47 miles through Wednesday. He started off in 3-above-zero temperatures today. Donations totaled $2,127.80 Wednesday night, or $887 above the quota of a penny a step. The goal for the 100-mile trek was $2,640. Mitchell set out to visit 13 communities in four counties. The Purple Heart veteran of the Korean War picked up another blister coming here from Marion. But he had no thought of quitting. Waiting for him in Benton was the promise of a $100 check for the polio fund from Charles Molecki, a veteran of 27 years in the Marine Corps and now a policeman at Benton. Molecki led a March of Dimes drive at a Marine Corps school at Quantico, Va., while in service and raised $8,000 for the fund then.

Hammaraskjold May Sound Out Red China on Cease-Fire

LONDON (AP) — United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammaraskjold may be asked to take "direct soundings" in Peiping as a first step toward arranging a cease-fire in the danger-packed Formosa Straits, informed diplomats said today.

These diplomats said the suggestion was under active consideration as part of an over-all U. N. attempt to end the shooting war between the Chinese Nationalists and the Reds before their "little war" can spread into an international conflagration.

Diplomats said today that there is increased interest here in asking Hammaraskjold himself to take the initiative with the Chinese Communists.

Earlier this month the secretary general visited the Red China capital to confer with Chinese Premier and Foreign Minister Chou En-Lai on release of 11 American airmen jailed in China on "spy" charges.

Stratton's Auto Is Equipped with Nylon Safety Belts

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — Gov. William G. Stratton's automobile has been equipped with nylon safety belts "as a safety measure," it was reported today.

An aide to the governor said Stratton ordered the belts installed after becoming convinced of their safety value in case of accident.

"The governor travels an awful lot in that car, and a good many doctors and safety groups have recommended the use of the belts,"

Showdown When Tachen Evacuated, Knowland Says

WASHINGTON — Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland said today a showdown with Red China will come "if and when" the Nationalist-held Tachen Islands are evacuated under protection of U. S. forces.

"Communist China will determine then whether to interfere or not," the Californian told newsmen.

Knowland's remarks were made as the Senate resumed debate on the Formosa resolution to give President Eisenhower unlimited authority to defend Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's island bastion.

Knowland conferred with President Eisenhower before Senate debate began and reported that the President feels strongly that the resolution will not lead to preventive war.

Knowland said the Red Communists' intentions will be first indicated "if and when" Nationalist forces are evacuated from the Tachens, some 200 miles north of Formosa. The United States has written off the Tachens as not vital to the defense of Formosa.

Knowland said if the Reds decide to interfere with U. S. naval and air cover over the Tachen evacuation, the President's resolution would authorize U. S. forces to fire back.

"If they make war upon us, we will not have our hands tied," Knowland said. "But we are not firing unless fired upon."

Serge Rubinstein Is Found Slain

eral Penitentiary at Lewisburg, Pa., for draft evasion and was still fighting deportation at the time of his murder.

The attack on him and subsequent extortion arrest of three men last fall were linked by the district attorney to another $750,000 financial action pending against him.

The Rubinstein butler, William Morter, apparently discovered the murder when he went to his bedroom in the four-story white stone house to awaken his employer.

Trouble From the Start

The financier had been in trouble with U. S. authorities since 1943, five years after he entered the United States from Canada on a Portuguese passport.

Rubinstein was first charged with immigration fraud, was convicted of draft evasion in falsifying dependency claims, was indicted while in Lewisburg Federal Prison and later acquitted of a three-million-dollar stock fraud.

U. I. Coed Sails
For France to
Meet Real Prince
CHICAGO (UP)—An attractive University of Illinois coed caught a plane today for a trip to France
to meet "a real, live prince."

Joan Stork, 20, of Alton, Ill., read about her Prince Charming in a women's magazine.
He is Prince Rainier, bachelor prince of fabulous Monaco. The article said he wanted an American wife.

Miss Stork, a brunette, said she's not making the trip with marriage in mind. She just wants to meet the prince.

"It's like a fairy tale," she said.
She said she believes she represents the average American college girl, who secretly still dreams of meeting a prince.

She sent him a picture and a letter earlier this week, she said,
"but there hasn't been time for a reply."

She said she decided on the trip to the French Riviera instead of going on a Midwestern ski trip with her sorority sisters.

Miss Stork, who has no steady
but plenty of dates, is a Pi Beta Phi and hopes some day to be a physical therapist.

She had her examination dates moved up, canceled some previous social engagements, got her parents' permission to make the trip,
and took off today aboard a Trans
World Airlines plane.

Her father, who runs a dry cleaning business, added to the money
she had saved for her vacation so she could make the trip.

Democratic Farm
Leaders to Seek
Rigid Price Supports
WASHINGTON (UP)—Democratic
farm leaders announced today
they will try to push through the House this year a bill to overturn the administration's flexible farm program and restore rigid high price supports.

They are determined to force a showdown vote in the House this
year even though:
1. They are not sure they have the votes to win.
2. There is little or no chance that the Senate would act on the bill before next year even if it passed the House.

Man Found Wandering Around Nude in 4-Below Zero Weather
CHICAGO (UP)—It was 4 below zero in Chicago early today when the police radio intoned "naked man at 18th street and Damen avenue."

Policemen found Louis Miegocki, 34, wandering alone at a vacant prairie. There wasn't a stitch of clothing on him.
Miegocki, who apparently had been drinking, was taken to warm up at the Psychopathic hospital.

U. S. in Guided
Missile Race,
Talbot Reports
By United Press
Air Force Secretary Harold E.
Talbot said today the United States is engaged in a deadly race
with Russia to perfect long-range guided missiles capable of carrying H-bomb warheads.

Testifying before the House
Armed Services Committee, Talbot said the past year has brought a "marked advance" in U. S. development of guided missiles with intercontinental range. But he warned that Russia, with the aid of many German scientists who developed the V2 rockets of World War II, is working on the awesome weapons, too.

Noting that Russia has the
"known ability" to produce H-bombs, Talbot said it is "imperative that our country be the first
to possess operational longrange
ballistic missiles."

Other news in Congress:
Visitor: President Paul E. Ma-
gloire of Haiti, here on a three-day
good will visit, told a joint session of Congress that U. S. aid in raising living standards "is the most efficient weapon for fighting communism" in underdeveloped countries. He expressed thanks for past such U. S. aid to his country.

Schools: Democratic members
of the Senate Labor Committee served notice that they will press
for action on a bill to authorize federal aid for school construction
without waiting to hear President Eisenhower's proposals on the subject in a Feb. 15 special message.

Sugar: A delegation of 25 congressmen from sugar-producing states reported after a White House conference that President Eisenhower will support efforts to revoke the Federal Sugar Act this year. The congressmen want domestic quotas boosted.

All Media Share
Responsibility,
SIU Speaker Says
CARBONDALE, Ill. (UP)—All communications media — newspapers, magazines, radio and television — share a responsibility to keep the nation sane and tolerant.
Houston Waring, editor of the Littleton, Colo., Independent, said today.

Waring is on the Southern Illinois University campus for three days as the 1955 Elijah P. Lovejoy lecturer in journalism. Besides speaking to journalism classes and a student careers conference he will address a meeting of the Southern Illinois professional chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalistic fraternity, tonight.

Waring said the nation needs courageous editors to battle forces of evil and safeguard democratic rights of citizens, and the same leadership is needed in radio and television which are particularly good tools for persons and groups "concerned with rabble-rousing."

He said vigorous newspaper editorial stands may have spared the nation from periods of hysteria during which tolerance was forgotten and rights of citizens trampled in the past.

Two Ships Missing
In Icy Hurricane;
Fear 40 Men Lost
LONDON (UP)—Forty seamen were feared lost today during a trawler's heroic attempt to rescue a capsized ship in an icy hurricane off Iceland's North Cape.

Owners of the trawlers Lorella and Roderigo said at Hull, England, they believed both ships had been weighted down by the "black frost," a freezing cocoon of haze that wraps a heavy cocoon of ice around everything it contacts.

The 559-ton Lorella radioed that it had heeled over in the "black frost," and the 810-ton Roderigo went to her aid.

Then the Roderigo radioed a distress message before losing contact.

Reasonable Answer
MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP)—A seven-year-old girl asked a bank teller here to give her
"all nickels" for a $1 bill.

The girl took the coins to the table, counted them and returned to the same teller, asking for "dimes." Again, she returned to the table, counted the dimes, then returned to the teller's cage, asking for quarters.

"What in the world are you doing?" the teller asked.
"Learning to count money," said the girl.

U. I. Coed Sails
For France to
Meet Real Prince
CHICAGO (UP)—An attractive University of Illinois coed caught a plane today for a trip to France
to meet "a real, live prince."

Joan Stork, 20, of Alton, Ill., read
about her Prince Charming in a
women's magazine.
He is Prince Rainier, bachelor
prince of fabulous Monaco. The article said he wanted an American wife.

Miss Stork, a brunette, said she's not making the trip with marriage
in mind. She just wants to meet the prince.

"It's like a fairy tale," she said.
She said she believes she represents the average American college
girl, who secretly still dreams of
meeting a prince.

She sent him a picture and a letter earlier this week, she said,
"but there hasn't been time for a reply."

She said she decided on the trip to the French Riviera instead of going on a Midwestern ski trip with
her sorority sisters.

Miss Stork, who has no steady
but plenty of dates, is a Pi Beta Phi and hopes some day to be a physical therapist.

She had her examination dates
moved up, canceled some previous social engagements, got her parents' permission to make the trip,
and took off today aboard a Trans
World Airlines plane.

Her father, who runs a dry cleaning business, added to the money
she had saved for her vacation so
she could make the trip.

Democratic Farm
Leaders to Seek
Rigid Price Supports
WASHINGTON (UP)—Democratic
farm leaders announced today
they will try to push through the House this year a bill to overturn the administration's flexible
farm program and restore rigid
high price supports.

They are determined to force a showdown vote in the House this
year even though:
1. They are not sure they have the votes to win.
2. There is little or no chance that the Senate would act on the bill before next year even if it
passed the House.

U. S. in Guided
Missile Race,
Talbot Reports

By United Press
Air Force Secretary Harold E.
Talbot said today the United States is engaged in a deadly race
with Russia to perfect long-range
guided missiles capable of carrying H-bomb warheads.

Testifying before the House
Armed Services Committee, Talbot said the past year has brought a "marked advance" in U. S. development of guided missiles with intercontinental range. But he warned that Russia, with the aid
of many German scientists who developed the V2 rockets of World War II, is working on the awesome weapons, too.

Noting that Russia has the
"known ability" to produce H-bombs, Talbot said it is "imperative that our country be the first
to possess operational longrange
ballistic missiles."

Other news in Congress:
Visitor: President Paul E. Ma-
gloire of Haiti, here on a three-day
good will visit, told a joint session of Congress that U. S. aid in raising living standards "is the most efficient weapon for fighting
communism" in underdeveloped countries. He expressed thanks for past such U. S. aid to his country.

Schools: Democratic members
of the Senate Labor Committee
served notice that they will press
for action on a bill to authorize federal aid for school construction
without waiting to hear President
Eisenhower's proposals on the subject in a Feb. 15 special message.

Sugar: A delegation of 25 congressmen from sugar-producing states reported after a White House conference that President
Eisenhower will support efforts to revoke the Federal Sugar Act this year. The Ducy turned on him the full benefit of his leer. "I'm an officer. The sheriff held an election and I'm landing. I'm serving my paper, which makes you just about through!"

"No, you're not impressing us for anything," Crotch impounded. From the edge of his glance he saw Lemoyne Hartman sliding up to them. He wished Hartman would stay out of this; and worst of all Lilly was coming up behind his father. Now at this moment Jamison wheeled and grasped her father.

"Let go, Jamison! I'm taking my belongings off your boat." "You're not going anywhere," Ducy swung his shoulder, striking the man savagely under the chin. The blow had been expertly delivered, catching Hartman off balance. He tripped himself on the gangplank as he went down onto the deck.

Crotch slipped his pistol with a quick up and down movement and cracked Ducy against the side of the head. When the man fell, his glance leaped toward Jamison. "After the court's done with you," Jamison said, "you won't have enough left to get out of this country!"

But Crotch ignored the dapper man with his hate-filled eyes and flaring nostrils. Jim Melott had come up in back of him to join Goss. Crotch spoke to these two without glancing around. "You fellows stay aboard and hold Jamison off deck. I'll see what kind of judge we got here and be back in half an hour."

"It's a trick," Melott warned. "Keep your eyes open."

Crotch went down the gangplank, backing Jamison out of his way as he advanced.

Midway in the block he found an adobe building over which a new sign had been hung. The lettering was still wet. "JUDICIAL BUILDING, EISENHOWER COURTHOUSE." He went inside. The room was long and low-ceilinged and carried a marked odor of kerosene lamps. A number of rough benches had been placed near the entrance. Behind these was the judicial desk. Two brass lanterns stood on either end of the bench. Between these, Crotch looked into the malevolent face of the judge. The man was Captain Maddix, of the packet CLAL BULLDOG. He went inside.

"When in the courtroom," Maddix spoke solemnly, "you will remove your cap."

Without deliberately willing it, Crotch lifted his cap. His solid jaw had run lax in surprise. "You're the judge?"

"Assuming dignity as though it were a cloak to go with his office, Maddix nodded. "Where is Mr. Ducy? Has he served his warrant?"

Against a sudden silence Crotch dropped his words. "I slugged Ducy with a pistol." Behind him he sensed others entering the building. Many of these men would remain loyal, remembering past favors. But there were others in this room. The Crotch who had worked as deckhands on Clyde Maddix's packet. His own crew, led by Goss, had given these boys a severe mauling.

"We will start in by preferring charges of assault against an elected officer," Clyde Maddix's voice was thick with venom. "In case any of you should think he makes his own justice in this chamber," Maddix continued, sliding a gun onto the desk before him, "this little persuader is our Blackstone!"

"You're no judge," Crotch played him bitterly. "You're only a river pirate!"

The magistrate was smiling, content in his knowledge he held the situation securely within his grasp. He said in a learned way, "The main charges against you are: 1. Keeping two men digging sand from the river all the time." "There's nothing off color about the contract," Crotch said evenly. "We agreed to tow their ore downriver for the price you mention. It's my lookout to keep the channel open as far as their landing. I keep two men digging sand from the river all the time."

Maddix's eyes glinted. "The milling company claims you jumped their rates."

"And that is a lie! Navigation wants to void my contract so they can take over."

Maddix rapped briefly for order with the barrel of his pistol. "Navigation Company has nothing whatsoever to do with these proceedings," he said politely. "I demand that you produce your contract. The Court will examine the proof."

"You won't see my contract, Maddix. I'd like to face someone from La Paz Milling Company with that story."

"And so you shall," Judge Maddix smiled and nodded toward the room's rear. His smile was icy-cold, from the face shining palely from the conviction that he held Crotch dangling.

A swarthy thin man came forward. He obviously carried a goodly mixture of blood in his veins, and his eyes were flecked with red vessels.

"You are the authorized representative for the ore company?" "I am. This man has not lived up to his agreement with us. He don't keep the channel dredged out. As a result his barges hang up on the gravel. His price is not $10, but $7. I have our copy of the agreement."

LET'S TALK ABOUT RETIREMENT: No Monotony After Retirement With New Friends, Acquaintances

ROBERT L. PETERSON
University of Illinois

Those who complain of monotony in retirement are asleep to the possibilities which exist for an exciting life after 65. The only elderly persons who have reason to complain are those who are blind or bedridden. Any older person who can get around and can care for himself literally has the world at his fingertips.

What can he do? If he has the means he can spend a portion of his time traveling about the world, finding new experiences and taking pictures which he can show to his friends on his return. If he does not have the means for extensive travel he can devote his time at home to making hand crafts—dozens of which offer possibilities for making hundreds of dollars a year. In the process of making and selling these crafts he will find the satisfaction which comes from worthwhile activity and, in the process of learning more about his craft and exchanging experiences with other craftsmen, he will probably make many new friends who will help make his retirement a satisfying one.

Probably the greatest source of discontentment in retirement is inactivity. When a man stops working he ordinarily finds himself spending more and more time in the rocking chair. Unless he gets out of the rocker rut he soon comes to the dreary conclusion that life with its fun and usefulness is another source of discontentment.

Another source of discontentment is the gradual narrowing of our circle of friends. With the passing years it is inevitable that we will start losing our old friends, or they will lose us. It thus becomes essential that we keep filling the losses with new friends and acquaintances. This is a difficult thing to do if we stay at home and wait for new friends to come to us. On the other hand, it is sometimes difficult for an older person to know where to go to make new friends and acquaintances.

The answer to the problem has been the senior citizens center. In hundreds of cities and towns in America these centers have sprung up, providing a place where tired people may go to widen their circle of friends and to learn new pursuits. One of the best examples is the senior citizens center in Champaign, Illinois. This center is open every weekday afternoon to people 60 years of age and older. It is supported largely by the sale of active memberships at $3 per year. There is a program director in charge of the center who serves as hostess and who organizes the games and fellowships which are enjoyed. She also helps members plan dinner parties and visits to shut-ins and encourages members to make salable articles which may be displayed in the center's large display window overlooking busy Green Street.

Looking At Sports

By Ed Kirkpatrick
and BILL MELTON

Shawneetown's conquest of Ridgeway Tuesday night all but decided the outcome of the Greater Egyptian conference race. The victory assured the Indians a share of the title. Only Cave-in-Rock has a mathematical chance of joining the undefeated Shawnees at the top of the ladder. To do this, Cave would need to win all five of its remaining conference games while Shawneetown is losing all three of its loop tussles.

Second-place Vienna which plays only 13 circuit tiffs this year is already eliminated from the title picture. However, the Eagles can figure in the outcome. Should they defeat Cave-in-Rock this Friday night, Shawneetown will automatically become the champion. Vienna has already beaten the Rivermen twice this season—once in regular play and once in the tourney. Should Cave top Vienna and Galatia, while Shawneetown is busy playing non-conference games, the two could decide the issue between themselves on Friday night, Feb. 4, at Shawneetown.

In addition to Cave, Shawneetown must yet play Rosiclare and Pope Co. Indians in conference activity. The Indians have three non-loop games—two with Enfield and one with Crossville. Cave, it will be remembered by many, has come closer than any one to dumping the Indians this season. In November, Shawneetown barely edged out the Rivermen, 49-48, on the Cave floor.

Here are the current conference standings:

| Team | W | L | Pct. |
|--------------|----|---|-------|
| Shawneetown | 11 | 0 | 1.000 |
| Vienna | 7 | 3 | .700 |
| Cave-in-Rock | 6 | 3 | .667 |
| Pope Co. | 6 | 4 | .600 |
| Equality | 4 | 6 | .400 |
| Galatia | 2 | 8 | .222 |
| Ridgeway | 2 | 8 | .200 |
| Rosiclare | 1 | 8 | .111 |

And here's something Greater Egyptian followers will probably enjoy studying. The conference scoring race to date:

| Player, Sch. | GP | TP | Av. |
|---------------------|----|-----|------|
| Nolen, Vienna | 10 | 207 | 20.7 |
| Blen, Stowers | 11 | 212 | 19.3 |
| Woolsey, Equality | 10 | 185 | 18.5 |
| Neeson, S-town | 11 | 173 | 15.7 |
| Holland, Pope Co. | 10 | 148 | 14.8 |
| Walker, Pope Co. | 10 | 146 | 14.6 |
| Lane, Cave | 9 | 126 | 14.0 |
| Clair, Galatia | 9 | 123 | 13.7 |
| Herrin | 9 | 124 | 13.8 |
| Tate, Galatia | 8 | 108 | 13.5 |
| Spottsville, S-town | 10 | 130 | 13.0 |
| Barter, Ridgeway | 9 | 128 | 12.8 |
| Downen, Ridgeway | 9 | 113 | 12.6 |
| Webb, Vienna | 10 | 119 | 11.9 |
| Repper, Pope Co. | 10 | 119 | 11.9 |

This is conference games only. (Does not include tournament or non-conference games.)

"Chuck" Studley, 25, head football coach at Alton high school, has been appointed as an assistant football coach at University of Illinois. Douglas R. Mills, director of athletics at the U. of I. has announced. Studley, a native of Pontiac, won three letters as a guard on Illinois football teams of 1949-50-51 and was captain his senior year when the Illini won the Big 10 championship and scored a 40-7 victory over Stanford in the Rose Bowl.

Mills also announced the appointment of "Rocky" Raklovits, 26, of Chicago, as assistant freshman football coach. Raklovits will also take over as head freshman baseball coach in 1956. He is a graduate with the class of 1951 and won three letters in both football and baseball at the U. of I. He won all Big Ten honors as a fullback and All-American honors as a third baseman.

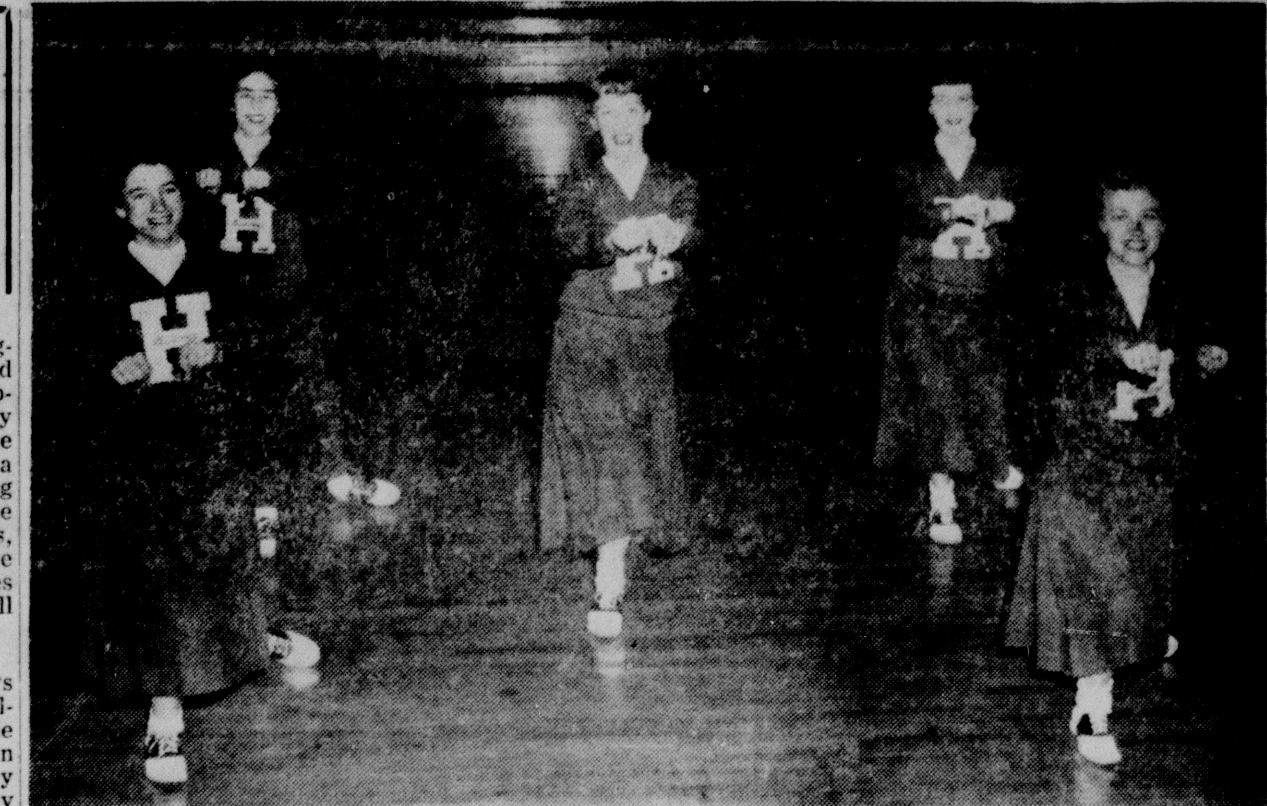

The Illini will resume basketball competition Saturday night, engaging Loyola in the first half of a Chicago Stadium doubleheader. Illinois will probably play without the services of George Bon Salle, 6-7 1/2 center, who suffered a sprain of his left ankle in an informal practice session Monday. It is thought Bon Salle will be held out of the Saturday contest to insure that he'll be ready for Big Ten play on Feb. 5 when Northwestern plays at Illinois.

The University of Illinois baseball team will play a 29-game schedule, including a five game southern training trip. The season starts April 5 with Washington U. in St. Louis. On the schedule is a game at Southern Illinois U. April 14. Danny Dudas, Du Quoin junior, is the only returning infield regular.

Giardello Wins; Rematch Ordered With Al Andrews

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Joe Giardello must fight Al Andrews again on Feb. 9 to get a shot at the midweight crown because his ring-scraping Wednesday night was less impressive than his recent outside brawling.

Executive Secretary Truman Gibson of the International Boxing Club ordered the re-match today because top contender Giardello of Philadelphia had extreme difficulty in winning a unanimous 10-round decision over unranked Andrews of Superior, Wis.

Joe and Al will meet in a return 10-round bout at the Baltimore Coliseum on Feb. 9. "And if Giardello is more impressive than he was still in Norfolk last night, he can still get a title shot at Bobo Olson in late March," Gibson said. Matchmaker Billy Brown agreed.

Fighting for the first time since Sept. 24, the once-classy Giardello appeared slow-footed and inaccurate in the nationally-televated bout in the Municipal Auditorium. Desperate fire pulled the speedy out of the fire by staggering fight off Al in the eighth round, flooring him with a right in the ninth and finishing stronger in the 10th.

Giardello scaled 162 pounds to Andrews' 159.

Centralia, Flora Win First Round Games in Tournament

SALEM, Ill. (AP)—Centralia, ranked No. 4 team in Illinois, and Flora picked up wins Wednesday night in the opening session of the Salem invitational prep basketball tourney.

Centralia outlasted Effingham 36-70 and Flora nipped Lawrenceville 62-60. It was the 17th win in 19 games for Centralia.

Pinckneyville, unbeaten in 17 outings and rated No. 2 team by the United Press Board of Coaches, tackles Olney and Salem meets Vandalia in other first round matches tonight.

Galatia, Broughton To Meet in Finals Of Midget Tourney

Galatia and Broughton will meet this evening for the championship of the Midget conference basketball tournament being played in the Galatia grade school gymnasium.

They advanced into the championship round by winning from Muddy and Raleigh Wednesday.

In the opening game of the semifinals Galatia defeated Muddy 45-27 and Broughton then won over Raleigh 31-28.

Last night's losers will meet at 6:30 today for consolation honors and about 7:45 the title tilt will get underway.

Pyramid Tournament Begins Friday At West Frankfort

The Pyramid tournament, a four-team blind draw affair, that has been successfully staged for the past few years, is scheduled for West Frankfort Friday and Saturday.

Teams that participate in the annual tourney are Herrin, Marion, Johnston City and West Frankfort. Game times both Friday and Saturday are 7:15 and 8:30.

Harrisburg Junior high school basketball teams will meet Marion this evening in the new Junior high gym.

The seventh grade teams will play at 6:45 and the eighth grade game is listed for 8 p. m.

Annual Saline County Tourney Will Begin Here Tomorrow Night

Harrisburg, Galatia,
Eldorado, Carrier
Mills Will Play

The Second Annual Saline County basketball tournament starts tomorrow night and right now nobody knows who will play whom. That's because this is what is called a "blind draw" tournament. At 6 p. m. Friday, an hour before the first game is scheduled to start teams will draw for opponents and time of play.

There will be four numbers in a box and each team will draw a number. Teams drawing No. 1 and No. 2 will play the first game at 7 p. m. Teams drawing No. 3 and No. 4 will play the contest at 8:30 p. m.

Tomorrow night the two losers will meet at 7 p. m. for third place and the two winners at 8:30 for the championship.

Last year large and enthusiastic crowds attended the two sessions

Schlundt Edges Closer to Robin Freeman in Scoring

CHICAGO (AP)—Indiana's lanky center, Don Schlundt, who has won the Big Ten basketball scoring championship for the past two seasons, has pulled closer to first place this year as an ankle injury hampered the early leader, Robin Freeman of Ohio State, statistics showed today.

Freeman, who had been hitting 34.9 points per game, turned in only 20 points against Purdue to drop his league leading average to 31.7. He did not play Monday against Iowa.

Schlundt meanwhile maintained his average at 30.4 points per game, higher than the average with which he won the title the past two seasons.

Dick Garmaker, Minnesota, retained third place though his average slipped slightly to 27.6 points per game, while Fank Ethmann, Northwestern, climbed to 24.5 points to hold fourth place. Al Ferrari, Michigan State, retained fifth with a 22.0 average.

Minnesota, holding a share of the league lead with Iowa, took over the offensive leadership with an average of 38.7 points per game while Iowa was the leader on defense, Indiana's 73.9 per cent average on free throws was tops in the league while Michigan State led in field goal shooting with a 43 per cent mark.

Salukis Tangle With Northern Illinois Saturday

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP)—Southern Illinois university's Salukis, who jumped into a league leading tie with Western Illinois, Feb. 22 with a 76-61 triumph over the Leathernecks, tackle tough Northern Illinois Saturday at Carbondale.

A Southern win is imperative if the Salukis hope to remain in the running for the lead. Western plays two conference games this weekend and could have a 6-1 record if they win both encounters. A Saluki victory would give Coach Lyn Holder a 5-1 mark, and coupled with one Western loss, would put SIU in the top spot.

The Huskies, sparked by the playing of Bobby Jackson, member of DuSable's high school team last year, bring a 6-5 record into the contest. Northern's conference mark stands at two wins and three losses.

Southern owns a 5-8 mark for the season and a 4-1 league slate. Big Gus Doss, freshman center from East St. Louis, has taken over the scoring lead from Freshman Larry Whitlock. Mt. Vernon. Doss has dunked 189 points in the 12 games he has played. Whitlock is runner-up with 178 points.

Rounding out the top five for the Salukis in scoring, Forward Jack Morgan, Carbondale junior, has 150 points; Guard Dick Blythe, Griffith, Ind., junior, 148; and Capt. Gib Kurtz, senior guard from East St. Louis, 106 points.

The Salukis travel to Illinois Normal Feb. 3 for a league contest with the Redbirds. Southern dropped Normal in an earlier game 86-71.

The early French settlers in Illinois gathered in villages while the American settlers tended to settle on somewhat scattered farms. (SIU) of this county meet, in which Harrisburg, Eldorado, Carrier Mills and Galatia will participate. Any of the four could win it.

Wildcats Last Year Winners

Last year's champion was Carrier Mills. The Wildcats beat Galatia, 53 to 49, in its first game, then beat Eldorado, 56 to 44, for the title. Eldorado entered the finals by beating Harrisburg, 54 to 47, in the opening round. Galatia defeated Harrisburg, 91 to 72, for third place as Sammy Duane and Bob Orto of the Bearcats both broke the scoring record for Davisport gym by accumulating 33 points each. Big Archie Dees of Mt. Carmel, however, broke the mark of the Galatia boys in the Harrisburg sectional when he poured 46 points through the hoop as the Acres beat Mounds Douglas.

Trophies will be awarded for first, second and third place. The tournament ball will be awarded the fourth place team.

Game officials will be Robert Blom and Claude Rhodes of Benton and Robert Catlett of Oblong. James Beers will be timer, Ira Pollio the scorer.

Polio Penny Parade

In connection with the tournament will be a Polio Penny Parade and the selection of a Saline County Polio queen.

The ceremony will be held during the halftime of the opening game. All high school students of the county, about 1,800 of them, have been asked to collect 100 pennies each, which makes 180,000 possible pennies. These will be turned into the schools and brought to Davenport gym.

Each of the four schools is selecting a Polio Queen candidate and the girl from the school collecting the highest percentage of the quota set for the school will be crowned Saline County Polio queen. The other three will be her attendants.

UBC Announces Trip to Florida Slogan Contest

The UBC Food Foundation has announced a trip to Florida contest for the purpose of getting a suitable slogan for the UBC food stores of this area. The winner of the contest will be the one who writes the most suitable slogan for use by the UBC food stores. The contest is open to all customers of the UBC food stores in the Southern Illinois group except employees of the UBC Food Foundation, the UBC food stores, or the Federal Wholesale Corporation. The rules of the contest and the entry blanks may be secured at any UBC store. There is nothing to buy to be eligible to enter the contest.

The first prize winner will be awarded a ten day all expense paid trip to Florida, for two, packed full of thrills and excitement. There will be six runner-up prizes: second prize, a four position chaise longue; third prize, a single glider; fourth through seventh prizes, one folding chair. These pieces of furniture are constructed of lightweight aircraft aluminum, and woven with Firestone Velon webbing, for comfort and are suitable for indoor use as well as for the lawn or patio.

The winner of the first prize and the person that the winner chooses to go with him or her will travel aboard one of the new planes of the new Silver Fleet belonging to the world famous Eastern Air Lines to Silver Springs, where they will sun bathe, swim, sail in a glass-bottom boat, and also take photo-sub trips. There will be guided tours of the city of Miami Beach as well as an exciting jungle cruise. The next place of interest will be to beautiful Cypress Gardens where they will spend three days, dining at the most fabulous restaurants, see the world's famous ski shows, and be driven by automobile to all other points of interest. Then, at Miami Beach the lucky winner will be entertained at Sans Souci hotel by the top New York stars. There too, they may enjoy ocean fishing, a boat trip through the Indian River, and enjoy dining and dancing during the evenings at Florida's most exclusive entertainment centers.

This contest is open to all customers of the UBC stores in southern Illinois, and entry blanks may be found at local UBC stores.

The Daily Register Circulation Is Verified by ABC Auditor

The paid circulation of The Daily Register for the 12-month period ending Sept. 30, 1954, was 6,531, the latest audit report by the Audit Bureau of Circulations shows.

The Audit Bureau of Circulations, which observed its 40th Anniversary in 1954, is an organization of advertisers, advertising agencies and publishers to furnish circulation information.

The charter reads "The objects of the Audit Bureau of Circulations shall be to issue standardized statements of the circulation of publisher members; to verify the figures shown in these statements by auditors' examination of any and all records considered by the Bureau to be necessary; and to disseminate circulation data only for the benefit of advertisers, advertising agencies and publishers."

"Each Publisher's Statement and each Audit Report issued to members shall embrace figures and facts bearing on the quantity, quality, distribution of circulation and circulation methods; thereby enabling quality as well as quantity to be established. The figures in the Audit report shall be those verified by Bureau auditors. Facts, without opinion, to be reported."

The Bureau serves as a protector to local and national advertisers, who can be certain that circulation figures, when verified by the Bureau, are correct.

The Daily Register has been a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations for ten years, with the audit including the 12-month period from October 1 to September 30 of the following year. The most recent audit covered the period ending Sept. 30, 1954.

When an auditor from the Bureau comes to The Register office he comes without announcement of his expected time of arrival and The Daily Register has absolutely no control over the audit at all. The requirement is that the auditor must have access to all circulation records and have a free hand in completing his audit.

Throughout the year daily records are maintained of all circulation—by carrier, by mail, individual copy sales over the counter of The Daily Register or sales made by authorized news dealers.

In addition to keeping a record of the number of copies of The Daily Register distributed, the record also must show the amount of money received as payment for these copies.

Figures from the daily work sheets are transcribed to permanent records and the auditor checks both the daily work sheets and the permanent records in determining the average net paid circulation for the period. Only paid circulation is shown in detail.

Circulation is broken down into three general classifications—city zone, retail trading zone and "all other."

The city zone for The Daily Register includes the corporate limits of Harrisburg, plus the unincorporated communities of Dorris Heights and Wilmoth Addition.

Area included in the retail trading zone includes, with the exception of the city zone, all of Saline and Gallatin counties.

"All Other" takes in all Daily Registers to addresses outside Saline and Gallatin counties.

The report also shows how the Registers were distributed, either by carrier, mail, etc.

Daily carrier service is supplied in eighteen areas in the retail trading zone—15 communities in Saline and three in Gallatin counties have The Daily Register delivered by carrier the same afternoon of publication.

Audited, verified facts regarding the circulation of The Daily Register are available to all advertisers and other interested persons.

Bantam Rooster Is Good Watch Dog

NEW YORK — China Boy is a watch dog, an alarm clock and a salad eater.

The Chinese Cochon bantam rooster is the pet of Walter E. Gibson, New York free-lance writer, and his ex-magician wife, Litzka, who once used the fowl in her act.

China Boy clucks menacingly and flashes his spurs when strangers show up at the Gibson apartment.

Mostly, he eats a Chinese mixture of grain, rice and sunflower seeds, but when the family goes out to a restaurant, China Boy gets a bowl of tossed green salad.

"He'll crow his head off if the waitress omits the dressing," Mrs. Gibson said.

China Boy awakens the couple at daybreak — then tries to keep Gibson from leaving the apartment on business.

"He tries to pull off my socks and shoes," Gibson said.

The writer said China Boy is devoted to his owners because "he's got the softest berth in the world and he's shrewd enough to capitalize on it."

Look Twice Before You Fix That Flat Tire

PORTLAND, Me. — (AP) — Bob Llewellyn pulled up alongside Waldo Pray on a downtown street and asked "Whatcha doing?"

"What do you think?" replied Pray. "Changing a flat tire."

"It certainly doesn't look flat to me," Llewellyn said.

Pray stepped back in annoyance. Then he did a double-take.

In returning to the scene after borrowing a jack, he had jacked up the wrong car, an identical one parked in front of his own.

There's now a special kitchen wax that can go on everything in the kitchen—except the floor. It could make kitchen cleaning and protecting half the job it is, if you're the kind who likes to polish everything.

Puerto Rico means rich port.
